1	Broward county	3/1/2024 9:09 AM
2	Daytona Beach	3/1/2024 8:30 AM
3	Tallahassee	3/1/2024 7:19 AM
4	Eatonville	3/1/2024 7:11 AM
5	I think the Museum should be in the middle of town (Mid Town Tallahassee Florida.)	3/1/2024 4:51 AM
6	A central location that can get good traffic and that is easily accessible with a welcoming atmosphere.	3/1/2024 4:31 AM
7	Tallahassee or near a city with an HBCU or historical black town	3/1/2024 4:10 AM
8	Daytona Beach or Jacksonville	3/1/2024 3:04 AM

10	Jacksonville Florida	2/29/2024 11:20 PM
11	Tampa	2/29/2024 11:20 PM
12	Eatonville, oldest incorporated Black city in Florida.	2/29/2024 11:03 PM
13	I would suggest the museum be located in St. Petersburg, Florida since a new Carter G. Woodson Museum is scheduled to be housed in a new facility that will be part of the Hines/Rays redevelopment project in St. Petersburg.	2/29/2024 10:50 PM

18	St Augustine or Jacksonville	2/29/2024 8:51 PM
19	In an area that is liberal like Jacksonville, Orlando, Miami. No where in the Northwest Florida are or Tallahassee	2/29/2024 8:41 PM
20	In the greater Miami area or in Tallahassee.	2/29/2024 8:36 PM
21	The southern or northern region.	2/29/2024 8:19 PM
22	Orlando due to its central location	2/29/2024 8:11 PM
23	Somewhere along the Brightline. This makes it easier for schools to plan field trips, much like we do for St. Augustine, without worrying too much about long distances and logistics. Ideally, Overtown in the Downtown area of Miami, close to the Brightline station. If there was a stop in the Paramore section of Orlando, close to downtown and Church street, but on the south side of "Division" street, might be nice. There isn't a Brightline stop there yet...but there probably will be. I think Miami and Orlando both have the cultural weight, attraction, and infrastructure (Miami International and Orlando international) to warrant the museum. They both are in historically Black neighborhoods that could see a boon as a result of the museum. And the history of both cities includes wider regional histories. (E.g. Orlando region including Eatonville, the Space program, Multiple massacres, etc. Miami including Civil rights demonstrations, Black American international reach, and literally Black impact on the creation of the region.	2/29/2024 7:55 PM

44	While I am enthused about and supportive of the general idea of a Florida Black History Museum, I am a victim of political violence, stalking, invasion of privacy, and extortion, and I have reason to believe that this museum and the Individual Freedom Act are products of that malicious, harmful, and/or exploitative activity targeting me. To the extent that my suspicions above are correct, I insist that those responsible immediately cease and desist from all such activity targeting me, correct all misleading/false statements regarding any such activity, provide me with an accounting regarding all such activity, etc. All rights, claims, etc. reserved. I have not made any waiver, and no aspect of my participation in this survey should be deemed as such. While I am obviously submitting my comments herein voluntarily and willingly, I am submitting such comments in multiple capacities (e.g. as a victim and/or supporter) due to the circumstances and my suspicions; and, therefore, make no waiver, release, etc., nor should there ever be any interpretation to the contrary, and I reserve any and all rights, claims, etc. with respect to any such comments, suggestions, etc., including without limitation any ownership, attribution rights, etc. More specifically, but not exclusively, many of my suggestions/comments are from my own life experiences and personal perspectives, and I vehemently insist on preservation of all value and ownership in such suggestions/comments, which are not being provided herein as any grant, transfer, contribution, etc. (i.e. I'd expect serious terms discussions directly, expressly, and in advance that include my full retention/control of attribution/ownership/control and even commissions/compensation/payment in some, if not many or all instances). continue to take extreme issue with any person/organization, etc. stalking, extorting/exploiting me, infringing upon any aspect of my life and/or rights, etc. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Subject to the foregoing, my thoughts on the museum location are as follows: The museum should be located in Daytona Beach, FL in Volusia County due to the area's history, particularly with Bethune Cookman College, Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune, Jackie Robinson Ballpark, likely support for the museum, partnership/value creation opportunities, and general land value.

121	This museum needs to be located in the most secure place in Florida. There needs to be a land/sea survey conduction to determine where in the state can the museum be build (build with the best materials to withstand the climates and weather of year-around Florida). There needs to be a plan in place for protecting artifacts from severe weather. There needs to be a recovery location (within another state) where archives can be shipped and transported during times of hurricanes. TCL	2/28/2024 10:31 PM

147	Daytona beach	2/28/2024 3:50 PM
148	Daytona Beach, Florida for a myriad of reasons: 1. Location and Access - Nestled at the east end of I-4, Daytona Beach is at most 4 hours away from each major city in the state and sits right along two of the most high-impact highways in the country (I-95 / I-4) leading toward easy access to those in the state and those visiting. 2. Items 4, 5 and 6 in CS/HB 1441 under 112.061. 1 all directly impact Daytona Beach - Jackie Robinson (Ball Park - Notable Person/Landmark), Dr. James Huger (Notable Person); Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune's home and Legacy; Bethune-Cookman University 3. Cost of Construction - Daytona Beach is in a unique position where the opportunity for development is abundant. While many other cities (Orlando/Tampa/Miami) are relatively high traffic, the available space of land to achieve what this museum is looking to accomplish is priced at a substantial premium. Plus, the need for a cultural community staple is far greater in an area like Daytona Beach.	2/28/2024 2:11 PM

Cookman, and the nearby Jacksonville area where Lift Every Voice and Sing was composed, St. Augustine seems a logical choice.

483	There should be a study done. I am from Florida but do not feel I have enough info to recommend a location. It should be central to a large population of Black communities. This location needs to be decided very carefully.	2/23/2024 3:00 PM

486	I hate to see yet another museum in Tallahassee, but if there, I would locate it near the Interstate. I also like the idea of a location where I-10 and I-75 meet. My reasoning is that it could serve as a "break" for travellers and bring more folks to Florida's Black History. I know it sounds strange, but museums have a hard enough time without being located far from where travellers, visitors, tourists, etc. are.	2/23/2024 2:49 PM

My family has lived here for many generations, and I, as well as many others with deep roots here, have heard first hand accounts from previous generations. There is nowhere more suited to house the museum than St. Augustine.	2/22/2024 3:17 PM
532	I feel that the Florida Museum of Black History should be located in Tallahassee. Being located in the capital city would give the museum an air of legitimacy that I feel is extremely important. Tallahassee also contains a number of other historically significant sites and museums that I feel would offer agglomerative benefits. Furthermore, the Tallahassee area has played a central role in the Black experience in Florida. Africans both free and enslaved traveled through and stayed in the area during the Narvaez and DeSoto expeditions. During the territorial and antebellum years, the largest enslaved populations lived in and around the capital city. Emancipation was declared from the steps of the Knott House in Tallahassee. Black legislators served in Tallahassee during Reconstruction. The Tallahassee Bus Boycott was a major event during the Civil Rights Movement. In terms of percentage, Tallahassee has always had a large Black population.	2/22/2024 3:04 PM
533	City of Alachua - it is centrally located in the State; is directly connected to I-75; adjacent to the University of Florida in Gainesville; and it has a deep and rich under-recognized African American heritage, notably as the first Florida home for Josiah T. Walls (Reconstruction congressman), Matthew Lewey (mayor and justice of peace in Newnansville in 1870s, congressman, first Black newspaper publisher in State), and A.L. Mebane (pioneer in African American education).	2/22/2024 2:29 PM

722	In my opinion, Saint Augustine is the best and most logical choice for the location of this museum, as many many historical events have taken place in Saint Augustine, and when there are so many tourist that would get to experience this museum due to the influx of many tourists throughout the entire year, but especially during the nights of lights.	2/16/2024 11:15 AM

724	Saint Augustine, absolutely! Such a rich history from slavery, Frederick Douglas speaking here to Dr. King, Andrew Young visiting and suffering assault as well as Dr. Hayling's story and student sit-ins and SO much more. It would be so healing for a history that has often been forgotten here to be given recognition and a spotlight by becoming the location for such a museum. It's a City that has always had black history even before America was America.	2/16/2024 9:54 AM
734	Saint Augustine because so many events took place regarding black history	2/16/2024 9:40 AM
735	St Augustine, FL. We have Fort Mose, the location of a civil rights protest that brought in Dr Martin Luther King Jr and was pivotal in getting the Civil Rights Act of 1964 signed, the site of Florida Memorial College, and we are the oldest city and already a tourist destination. This would be one stop on a tour of African American Heritage sites around our oldest city in America. And Zora Neale Hurston's home on King St should also be preserved.	2/16/2024 9:28 AM

While Orlando area is a good option because of the high tourist traffic, it may be better situated outside of the metropolitan area due the current congestion in the area. 1140	In the center of historical tourism in Florida: St. Augustine. St. Augustine has the longest history of blacks in Florida. Black history of national importance occurred there. Well developed experiences for visitors to experience that history are already in place and have strong local supporting organizations. Ft. Mose State Historical Park and soon to be reconstructed fort provide visitors with a whole new understanding of how the "Underground Railroad" ran south long before it went north. Re-enactments of the Flight to Freedom are ongoing calendared experiences that would be draws for visitors to come to the Florida Black History Museum. The ACCORD Freedom Trail takes visitors to actual locations of the pivotal struggle that led directly to the passage of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The Castillo de San Marcos National Monument reenacts the nighttime preparations at the Castillo for the early morning Battle of Bloody Mose which forced Oglethorpe to withdraw his siege of the city. Fort Matanzas National Monument was garrisoned black Spanish troops led by General Jorge Biassou, second highest military leader of the Haitian Revolution. ACCORD Civil Rights	1/28/2024 2:46 AM

1201	I believe the ideal location is in Eatonville, FL. There is an 80+ acre site in the heart of the historic town, adjacent to Orlando and Winter Park, that is directly visible from Interstate 4. It is centrally located in the state and would be attractive to the millions of tourists who come to the area already. The Eatonville site would also be extremely easy to access from the south with the new extension of Brightline train and two major airports: Orlando International and Sanford Orlando Airport. Eatonville has a long and rich history as the oldest African-American town in the US, founded by freed slaves and continues to this day. From the building housing a former club for Blacks as part of the Chittlin' Circuit with famous performers blocks away, the Historic Walking Tour highlighting the life of Zora Neal Hurston and her description of the Town memorialized in Her Eyes Were Watching God and Dust Tracks on a Road, the Mosley House which is preserved for touring, and so much more. The property, owned by the Orange County School District, housed the Hungerford Industrial School for Blacks during the Jim Crow era and has a remarkable history all of its own. The Orange County School Board is partnering with the Town of Eatonville to convey the site for the proposed Florida Black History Museum and	1/25/2024 3:12 PM would like to continue the partnership for the benefit of the students of Orange County Public Schools.

passing, first attempt at establishing a Black history museum is here in Dr Hayling's office used as organizational site by Dr. King and Southern Christian Leadership Conference, many Black history markers are here— Accord Freedom Trail, Accord Civil Rights Museum, Lincolnville Museum and Cultural Center (all of which a currently lacking in funding). St. Augustine has the motels and has what is needed to handle tourists to a museum here.

1874	St. Augustine! St. Augustine, Florida is already rich in history and attracts a significant amount of tourism from both within and outside of Florida. St. Augustine is the only place in Florida that, I believe, would be able to maintain a self-supporting operation due to its significant tourist attractions for those seeking museum experiences and to learn about Florida's history. People already visit St. Augustine because of the rich historic value and to see the museums here. This would become another regular stop for both locals and tourists and be the best location to attract the regular business it would need to be self-supporting.	1/13/2024 9:36 AM

2137	It should be located in an area of Florida that has a history of Black residents rooted in strengthening the area that is central to the state and near other tourist destinations.	1/5/2024 8:29 AM

2219	The Museum should be located in Jacksonville Florida a pillar of black history where the historical Most Worshipful Union Grand Lodge is housed, James Weldon Johnsons personal home is housed and the historic Lavilla neighborhood resides. Additionally it will allow for partnerships with the Jacksonville Jazz Festival, and Black Excellence Festival held annually in Jacksonville Florida.	12/29/2023 1:51 PM

2240	Good question	12/28/2023 8:26 PM
2241	lousy	12/28/2023 8:15 PM
2242	The museum should be placed in a location that has a relevant connection to a understanding of all other elements of Florida history. The site should offer connectivity to the rest of the state. Saint John's County offers that connectivity considering almost the entire east coast of Florida was originally part of the county.	12/28/2023 8:04 PM

2298	St. Augustine, Florida. Or within St. Johns County. The timeline of Black History in St. Augustine is longer than any other region in Florida. 1513, Juan Garrido sailed alongside Ponce de Leon to "discover" La Florida, somewhere near St. Augustine. 1565 — Pedro Menendez founds St. Augustine. After the ceremonies were complete, the first Christian marriage in the United States occurred in San Augustin. The bride, Luisa de Abrego, was a free African woman who had lived and worked in Sevilla before making the journey to the "New World". Juan and Luisa are only two examples from hundreds of years of little known African stories whose settings were St. Augustine.	12/26/2023 2:56 PM

2311	Miami or Orlando	12/25/2023 2:40 AM
2312	St augustine is where it all started. 1st blacks in the soil, 1st to be freed (by Spanish).. 1st free community (fort mose). It also where MLK made his stand ...for reasons mentioned. St augustine got the civil rights act passed. St augustine had Woolworth sit ins. St. Augustine had Andrew Jackson attack on the square. St augustine has the only fingerprints of mlk from an arrest. Soooooo much more I could add. Go to the Lincolnville museum.	12/24/2023 9:00 PM

2334	St. Augustine. Museum has potential to generate income due to high level of tourism and interest in local history by residents and visitors of the area. Areas near Bethune Cookman, Ed Waters or FAMU should also be considered, especially if the museum holds archives and/or research facilities.	12/22/2023 10:29 PM
2335	In the middle of the state so it is accessible to all Floridians	12/22/2023 8:23 PM
2336	Gainesville, Orlando, or Jacksonville.	12/22/2023 6:50 PM
2337	St. Augustine	12/22/2023 4:28 PM
2338	There are so many different good answers to this question. If it was centrally located in the state to ensure it was not a far travel for parts of the state that would be nice. It also would be nice to have it located in a city that is already frequently visited or surrounded by other museums where people are likely to visit it. It also would be nice for it to be located in a part of Florida predominantly influenced by African Americans so the museum can point to its own surroundings and encourage other examples of African American history for people to see. It would be nice to see the museum in a city that already attracts people looking for similar experiences. I think most importantly it needs to be located somewhere that isn't difficult for people to get to or hard to find.	12/22/2023 2:37 PM
2339	St Augustine because of it's rich historical background for Black Americans.	12/22/2023 2:29 PM

2445	St. Augustine, FL	12/20/2023 10:32 AM
2446	St. Augustine, Florida makes a perfect location! As the home of the first freed slave community at Fort Mose, and given its pivotal history in the civil rights movement, I can think of no better city in Florida suited for this. Visitors come to St. Augustine wanting to learn about history, and this would be another wonderful way for them to do so.	12/20/2023 10:22 AM
2447	Good question!	12/20/2023 10:02 AM
2448	St. Augustine FL in rich in history and the Florida Museum of Black History would fit in nicely as we currently have the ACCORD Museum on Bridge Street that depicts black history, this museum could enlarge their mission and share resources.	12/20/2023 9:23 AM

2459	St Augustine is the only correct decision for location of the museum. We already draw visitors from around the world because of our cultural assets. There is nowhere else in Florida with the rich history of the black community. St Augustine is one of the most featured destinations for art and cultural tourism.	12/19/2023 7:43 PM

2469	The heart of Lincolnvillle	12/19/2023 3:07 PM
2470	Hands down--St. Augustine Florida. Civil rights importance, plus great artists and writers, and the bustling neighborhoods with so many black-owned businesses. Butler Beach is close and an interesting story. Plus, Fort Mose (the two could work in tandem on some really great projects), Civil Rights trail, the woolworth's lunch counter, etc.	12/19/2023 2:55 PM
2471	St. Augustine	12/19/2023 2:39 PM
2472	St Augustine	12/19/2023 2:25 PM
2473	The only appropriate location in Florida is St. Augustine, the center of the Civil Rights struggle in the state, with the assistance of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, Martin Luther King Jr. (and his arrest here), Andrew Young, Dr. Robert B. Hayling, the multiple people and civil rights activists who came to St. Augustine, the Rabbis who were arrested and wrote the letter from jail, which is read annually, the Accord Civil Rights Museum (former dental office of Dr. Hayling), the Lincolnvillle Museum and Cultural Center (a former African/American segregated school), the former students of Memorial College (now Memorial University in Miami) who were active protesters, and many more events not listed.	12/19/2023 2:18 PM
2474	We are recent residents. Where is there the most black history in the state?	12/19/2023 2:14 PM
2475	St. Augustine, FL would be a good location, as it has a rich history of African American heritage. I think children are also coming to the city in 4th grade on field trips, so maybe the museum could be incorporated into that curriculum.	12/19/2023 2:06 PM
2476	St. Augustine, of course!	12/19/2023 2:01 PM
2477	Saint Augustine	12/19/2023 1:59 PM
2478	St augustine fl!	12/19/2023 1:58 PM
2479	St. Johns County, Florida. There is wide open space at the site of the former Normal College campus on West King St., in St. Augustine. There is a great deal of knowledge and resources in place in St. Augustine to support the development and support a whole destination experience: Fort Mose Historic State Park, The Lincolnvillle Museum and Cultural Center, Andrew Young Crossing and commemorative statues in the Plaza de la Constitucion, The Accord Civil Rights Museum, and more. St. Augustine would be ideal as it is easily accessible to I-95, and there are established tourism hosting services available (hotels, restaurants, etc.) Location in North Florida also will act as a gateway to the state to learn and explore more visitation to the state-wide sites represented in the museum. Also, St. Augustine is already visited by almost every 4th grade class in Florida to learn about state history. Having this museum in St. Augustine would enrich the students experiences and provide the opportunity to tell the Black Floridian story to youth.	12/19/2023 1:57 PM

2489	St Augustine since it's a tourist destination already and it's Florida's beginning.	12/19/2023 1:19 PM
2490	St. Augustine as the oldest Black settlement in the nation. 450 years of history already exists in this city from Fort Mose (First Free Black settlement) to Ximenez Fatio House (Demonstration of urban enslavement) to Lincolnvillle (Civil Rights). All are perfect supplements to increase knowledge and awareness of Black History in FLorida at actual historic sites that would be around the museum.	12/19/2023 1:16 PM
2491	Saint Augustine is ideal mainly because so many pivotal moments took place here throughout history, from the first free black settlement at Fort Mose to MLK. Fort Mose would be the most logical place to put this museum, or at least near it.	12/19/2023 1:11 PM
2492	Without question, the museum should be in St. Augustine.	12/19/2023 1:08 PM

2517	Eatonville, Florida. The land that is now available will be a wonderful place for this museum. The National Parks Service can dedicate a park and land to surround the museum. A comprehensive plan with a national park, the museum as well as retail and residential properties would benefit this site and the town of Eatonville.	12/18/2023 7:18 PM
2518	St. Augustine, Florida. It is the Nation's Oldest continuously occupied city, home to Fort Mose - the first free African settlement before the US was established, the Lincolnville Museum & Cultural Center - housed in one of the first Black schools, and in a neighborhood dedicated to freedmen to establish residence after the Civil War. MLK Avenue was one of two Dr. King walked on; St. Augustine was the only place he was arrested in Florida. St. Augustine's civil rights demonstrations were instrumental in the passage of the 1694 Civil Rights Act, including the swim-in at the Monson Motor Lodge where James Brock poured muriatic acid in the pool, and the wade-ins at St. Augustine Beach. The ACCORD Museum in Lincolnville has worked tirelessly to provide tours and resources for visitors to walk the Freedom Trail with markers and a mobile app and learn more about our area's Black history.	12/18/2023 1:26 PM

2778	Choosing Opa-locka for the museum's location is strategic, given Miami's global tourism influence. The renovated Opa-locka historic city hall, soon to be the administration building, holds the largest collection of Moorish architectural art in the western hemisphere. This directly ties the structures to African culture, history, and a profound connection with Native American tribes, creating a unique and culturally rich destination.	12/8/2023 2:19 PM

2794	Somewhere accessible where local and state entities would work hard to support its existence and continued success. Since the proposed museum is so large, putting it within an existing metro area with many existing museums may be difficult, so it may need to be on the outskirts of a metro area.	12/8/2023 9:18 AM
